

MS CENTER QUALITY OF LIFE GRANTS

Since 1996, the Multiple Sclerosis Foundation (MSF) has awarded grants and endowments to universities and other organizations to actively promote quality of life and create a brighter tomorrow for those living with MS.

In 2005, the MSF expanded this initiative to include financial assistance to MS centers with a physical presence in the United States in need of expanding their programs and services. An initial fund of $400,000 is available for the MS Center Quality of Life Grant Program. The MS Center Quality of Life Grant Program has been established to assist in expanding MS Day Programs, diagnostic services and equipment, rehabilitation services, support services, social services, education and outreach, and medical care.

GRANT GUIDELINES

MS centers are encouraged to submit brief proposals outlining the program or service needed, objectives, budget, and projected outcomes. The MS center will be responsible for disbursement of all related funds and publicizing the support from MSF and any collaborative partners through the best local medium. Applicants must apply annually for consideration. A mid-year outcome report must be submitted to MSF by July 1 of each year.

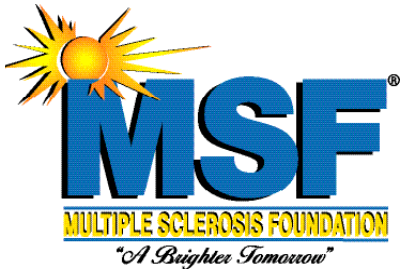

Due to the wide variety of program requests, the MSF expects to receive many more worthy requests than it can fund. To make the most effective use of available resources, the MSF will follow the guidelines below when considering grant requests.

MS DAY PROGRAM EXPANSION GRANTS

MS Day Program Expansion Grants are designed to enable MS centers to meet the progressively changing maintenance and rehabilitation needs of individuals with MS, by expanding wellness interventions that complement a participant's medical management of their disease. This would include physical, emotional, and recreational wellness strategies to maintain and improve functioning in core activities of daily living.

PROGRAMS AND SERVICES GRANTS

Program Service Grants will be provided to MS centers for programs, services, and diagnostic equipment that addresses the greatest needs identified by healthcare professionals who care for those with MS at that center. Programs and services considered for support must serve and benefit MS patients and target the needs of the MS community.

FUNDING GUIDELINES

Eligibility:

- New and existing centers with a physical presence in the United States.
- Centers serving twenty-five or more MS patients.

Priority will be given to efforts that:

- Address unmet needs
- Enhance or expand current services
- Use creative and innovative approaches to achieve positive outcomes
- Fill gaps in current services

Areas not funded:

- Grants for research
- Grants to individuals
- Grants for religious purposes
- Grants for items covered under existing MSF programs

Size and types of grants:

- Funding decisions will be based on the type and scope of the program. Due to the wide variety of program designs expected, varying amounts of funding will be provided. Generally, the MSF funds programs in the range of $5,000 to $40,000.

Funding cycle:

- Grant proposals must be postmarked between September 1 and November 1 of each year. Those wishing to receive notification that their grant request was received should mail their proposals with a return receipt via U.S. post office. The MSF will not confirm receipt of proposals. The MSF will only contact those MS centers whose proposals have been accepted for funding.

Funding Decision Process:

- The MSF Grant Committee will determine the final outcome. No appeals or exceptions will be considered. Funding decisions and awards will be made by December 31 of each year.
